Ogden lovers of drama will be given another treat when in March the University club players will present the four-act comedy, "Rolling Stones." Rehearsals for the play will begin next Monday with a number of the talented folk of the city participating. In one of the leading roles is Miss Dorothy Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wright, of 605 Twenty-third street, and whose cultivated abilities combined with a charming manner are not unknown to the select set of the city. Miss Wright is to play an important part and will have her role perfected before the date when the comedy will be presented.

CADET BATTALION BALL AT O. H. S.

In the Ogden High school auditorium last evening, the largest event of the year in social circles of the schools was held. This was the cadet battalion's annual military ball and the one last evening was unsurpassed by any other.

Throughout the large auditorium patriotic colors prevailed. American flags predominating while each program folder was printed in red, white and blue with tiny American flags. Special invitations were extended to many outside of the school and nearly all were present to enjoy the school's largest event of the year.

From eight-thirty until 12 o'clock the nearly 300 couples enjoyed dancing. Bandle's orchestra furnishing a splendid program.

Prior to the ball a banquet was held, beginning at 6:30 o'clock, in the coterie cafe. The non-commissioned officers and guests of honor were present and a tempting menu was enjoyed. Honored guests at the banquet were Superintendent and Mrs. H. C. Johnson, Principal and Mrs. J. E. Beeson, Dr. and Mrs. Reinhold Kandler and Commandant and Mrs. W. E. Woods.

The hosts and their ladies were: Captain Harmon Meisner, adjutant, and Miss Beatrice Dye; Second Lieutenant G. Byron Halverson, aide, and Miss Afton Stahl; Second Lieutenant J. Alvin McCulloch and Miss Avon Rich; First Lieutenant Walter Brown and Miss Cleone Harrop; Captain J. Fred Conway and Miss Lurline Leide; First Lieutenant Frank H. Raleigh and Miss Dorothy Harrington; Second Lieutenant Jack Holther and Miss Katherine Henderson; Captain D. Wedgewood Groves and Miss Burford Johnson; First Lieutenant Edwin Randall and Miss Venice Williams; Second Lieutenant Edmund Wood and Miss Grace Jennings.

The guests of honor were Superintendent and Mrs. Henry C. Johnson, Principal and Mrs. J. E. Beeson, Captain Walter E. Wood, commandant, and Miss Gertrude Woodruff; Dr. Reinhold Kandler, Major William Blackman, retired, and Miss Burnetta Carmen.

Captain J. Fred Conway presided at the banquet as toastmaster and responses of impromptu toasts were made by Superintendent Johnson, Principal Beeson, Commandant Wood, Dr. Kandler, Captain Meisner, Captain Graves and Second Lieutenant Wood. The remainder of the battalion officers were in appreciation of the presence of their guests and of the opportunities the school authorities had given the boys of the high school to develop into "regular" Americans through the medium of military drill. All of the older speakers developed the same theme, applying the need for military drill in all high schools of the country to the exigencies of the present day. While there was a vein of seriousness in all of the talks, the social spirit of the banquet was not overcome and timely bits of humor into each brief oration made them enjoyable as well as impressive.

At the conclusion of the feast, the banqueters motored to the high school and there joined the throng of dancers for the remainder of the evening.

K. OF C. BENEFIT PLAY A BIG SUCCESS.

The loyalty and patriotism of the citizens of Ogden was displayed Tuesday evening by the large attendance at the vaudeville performance given at the Orpheum theater under the direction of Daniel Sullivan, one of Ogden's young attorneys, who completed his course in dramatic art at Leland Powers, and who is well known and held in high esteem by the pupils of the Ogden High school, where he spent last year as teacher of dramatic art. This performance was given for the benefit of the Knights of Columbus war fund. Monsignor P. M. Cushman, V. G., briefly reminded the audience of the purpose for which the show was given and urged all present to give generously to the cause.

"We are not fighting through hatred or revenge but for the cause of glory and the American flag," he said. "We are in the war now, there is no turning back and we must fight to the last ditch."

The first act was a humorous sketch staged in a Chinese laundry. Ruth Winters portrayed the part of a girl seeking employment, but finding laundry work much beneath her, decided to go on the stage. In her sweet, unaffected way she rebuked her repertoire. Roger Connor and Alvin McCulloch did justice to their parts on Chinaman.

Miss Berenice Burke was clever in her character impersonation in song, "Miss Civilization," a one-act play in which Leonora Sorsby took the leading part as Alice Gardner. Grace Jennings, her mother; the burglars, Edmund Wood, Alvin McCulloch and Roger Connor; the officers, Kenneth Riddough, Maurice Conroy and Elwood Pearson, received great applause.

Grace Jennings and Edna Kohn were the scene of grace and charm in the "Butterfly Frolic" and "Japanese Tea Dance," two numbers devoted to character dancing.

"Some Sunday Morning," a duet by Ruth Winters and Alvin McCulloch, was splendid.

DANCING PARTY. Next Tuesday evening, February 19, the employees of the Utah-Idaho Central will give a dancing party in the Eagles' hall. A good time is being looked forward to by a large number of employees and their friends.

BARBERS GIVE DANCING PARTY. Two hundred couples were guests of the Ogden local, No. 53, Journeymen Barbers on Thursday evening of this week when the order gave its annual dancing party in the Berthana. The affair this year was made doubly attractive because of the fact that the proceeds were given towards the Battery B mess fund.

Miss Lillian Thatcher's splendid orchestra furnished a delightful program of dance numbers from 9 until 10 o'clock. Between dances the guests enjoyed fruit punch, waters and salted nuts.

The general committee, assisted by all members of the union, comprised Ben Garr, Joe Griffin, A. J. Rollow, Roy Griffin and J. W. Carlie.

FROM CAPITAL. Miss Jasmine Smith of Salt Lake City is an Ogden visitor spending the week-end with Miss Dorothy Eccles.

Miss Florence Zimmerman Entertained Before Leaving for East

Among the delightful events of the week were the affairs given for Miss Florence Zimmerman who left today at 1:30 for Washington, D. C., where she will accept a government position as a stenographer in the war department.

Miss Zimmerman is the daughter of Mrs. Georgia Zimmerman of 857 Twenty-second street and for some time past has been a stenographer in the Shippe-Williams company office. She will be accompanied by her brother, Fred, who also is to be employed by the government.

On Wednesday evening of this week Miss Zimmerman was complimented at a dinner party given by Miss Alice Combe at her home, 3567 Washington avenue. The dining table was attractive with a basket of carnations, roses, sweet peas and purple violets as the centerpiece, while radiating from the chandelier to each guest's plate were streamers of red ribbon tied to tiny cupid and red hearts.

Plates were laid for Miss Florence Zimmerman, Miss Reta Childs, Miss Florence Palmer, Miss Laura Keyser, Miss Letha Zimmerman, Mrs. Leona Campbell, Mrs. Jim Combe, Miss Dorothy Child, Miss Myrtle Child and Miss Verna Keyser.

On Thursday evening Miss Zimmerman was guest of honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Vandervlies in West Ogden where a dinner-dance was enjoyed by about twelve friends of the young lady. The rooms were effectively decorated with Valentine hearts and cupid and early spring flowers.

Learn-to-dance class for beginners commences Monday, Feb. 18th, 8 p.m. Royal Dancing Academy.

CLUB Calendar

Heatherbell Anniversary.

The sixth anniversary of the Heatherbell club was held on Tuesday, February 12, at the home of Mrs. S. Anderson, and was a brilliant social function. The reception room was decorated with flags intermingled with the colors of the club, lavender and white, forming a huge bell. The president, Mrs. J. E. Burton, occupied the chair of honor at the head of the table.

A banquet was served, the tables being presided over by Miss Bertha Moyes, Mrs. Hugh Moyes, Mrs. Harry White, Jr. Short, spicy toasts were given by the president, Mrs. Burton, Mrs. T. Carr.

A musical program was afterwards given and enjoyed by all present. Songs were given by Mrs. W. H. Moyes, Mrs. G. Stewart, and short addresses were given by Mrs. Geo. Lochhead, Jr., and Mrs. A. Faddis; a reading by Mrs. F. Cleve, a sketch by Mrs. A. Adams, a duet by Mrs. H. Heywood and Mrs. J. E. Burton, and violin solo by Mrs. G. Stewart. Games and dancing were indulged in until the early hours of the morning and was brought to a close by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." This brilliant affair was a credit to the ladies' club.

The feature of the evening was a patriotic song, composed and sung by Mr. Geo. Lochhead, as follows: "Wilson's at the helm today, And with him we're going to stay Until that he has won the day— A glorious victory."

What for Alston and Lorraine.
"Freedom's sword will freely stain"
That they shall forever reign
Free from German rule.

"What will be a traitor knave
Who can fill a coward's grave,
Who see base as a slave
Let him turn and flee."

What for the allies and their cause
"Freedom's sword will strongly draw,
Freeman stand or freeman fall
Let him follow me."

"By oppressions woes and pains"
By Belgium's sons in servile chains
We will drain our dearest veins,
But they shall be free.

We will lay the kaiser low
"Tyranny fall in every foe,
Liberty's in every blow,
Let us do or die."

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. C. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. H. Heywood, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moyes, Mr. and Mrs. S. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. N. C.
